Bible Message

Closing Song # 219

Benediction

*Folks lived and died, the centuries turned, civilizations rose and fell
Have it, lose it, grab it, abuse it ... Ahab and Jezebel
A short, sweet life. A lonesome walk. Then what ... just death or hell?
Was there no hope? No greater good? No joy of ending well?
Then JESUS CAME. The love ... the cross ... the grave (for one short spell!)
And dread and fear jumped up and ran, while HOPE let out a yell!*

May this day be for you a blessed Easter!

May the light which shown from the empty tomb shine upon you!

If you purchased an Easter Lily, you can take it right after the service, no need to wait until after the second service.

Trump Tweets. Zuckerberg does Facebook. Everybody you've never heard of dispatches email ... to you! Aunt Matilda sends cards (Bless her, she can't help it!) And in between all these greets and tweets are phone calls and text messages and iTunes and smart apps and ... Yea. Opinions are flying around like anti-aircraft fire. The world is a marketplace on steroids. Vendors shouting. Auctioneers babbling. Beggars tugging at your arm. Is there no quiet place where I can sit and listen to just one person who can actually tell me truth?

Yep. On a dark mountain top a lone figure is handed a flat rock with only a few words written on it. Carved into it, actually. Ten rules. And the wisdom and power of those rules make families work, make life sweet, make civilizations prosper. This simple list of rules has more to say than all the E stuff combined! So ... invite a friend to pull the phone off (or out of) their ear and join us on Sunday mornings to hear the rules. April 8 – June 10 TEN WORDS

Senior News!

AFTER A LITTLE WHILE

Life's greatest agony is lack of hope. We can endure any trial if we can see an end. We can cope with any struggle if we can understand that it is temporary. We can even handle death when we realize that it is not permanent.

_____ is _____ to _____ (Prov. 13:12).

John 16:16

BAD NEWS ... _____ ... soon

GOOD NEWS ... _____ ... soon

On multiple occasions Jesus had stated that he would die and rise from death (Matt. 17:22-23, etc.). Amazingly, his friends did not _____ or _____. Something so unprecedented simply could not be fathomed until it actually happened (Luke 24:6-8, John 2:19-22, 20:8-9). They had _____ the bad news but _____ the good news!

_____ world is filled with BAD news ... heavy and heartbreaking

_____ world overflows with GOOD news ... powerful and personal

HOW LONG IS "A WHILE"?

For them ... _____ in the grave > _____ from the grave

For us ... _____ into heaven > _____ from heaven

For me ... _____ from my life > _____ in my life

*The return of Christ at his resurrection prefigures and anticipates the return of Christ at the end of earthly time. In God's plan, the first event is both _____ and _____ of the second event!
