Within our human bodies are astonishing mechanisms, intricate and exquisite. These sermons will help us to pause and wonder at what God has made. They will link arms with the N.T. analogy of the church as Christ's "body". As individuals and as community, we are bound to a body. In both cases, it is both fearful and wonderful. (Psalm 139:14)

FEARFULLY MADE AND CHEERFULLY DISPLAYED!

BROKE and BLESSED (survival)

A PATH ... A ROCK ... A CHOICE (Isaiah 8:13-14)

- a) step upon it ... [humility] ... _____
(Romans 9:33, I Peter 2:6-7)
- b) stumble over it ... [haughtiness] ... _____
(Luke 20:18, I Peter 2:8)
- c) refuse to learn ... [hardness] ... _____ (Luke 20:18)

CHRIST is a ROCK. The wrong response to him will lead to a life of disappointment and brokenness. However, if we _____ from the pain and _____ our attitude from pride to humility, then the brokenness has blessed us. It has caught our _____ and changed our _____. Describing a son who was too broken to do anything except go home, Jesus said that his Father “rejoiced” (Luke 15:32). Not in the brokenness, but in its role in saving his son.

PEOPLE, PATTERNS, CRUTCHES (Luke 5:1-11)

These fishermen depended on their nets. Income. Security. Identity. But an act of obedience to Christ resulted in broken nets i.e. a loss of something that seemed indispensable. HOWEVER:

- _____ of fish turned net loss into _____ (Get over it!)
- Astonishment! Net without Christ = _____ (5)
Christ without net = _____ (9) (Knowledge!)
- Torn net was not the _____ they assumed, because Christ was calling them to a new focus/purpose in which _____ net was _____. They would survive! (As long as the net is intact, it represents a temptation back to the old way. If Christ calls to a new purpose, do not mourn the broken net.)

A BROKEN SHIP (Acts 27:39-44)

To our logical mind, nothing could be more disastrous than our ship breaking into pieces, ripped apart by rock, wind, and wave. Worst nightmare! But it was the very _____ and _____ of the boat which became _____ for these victims of nature’s fury! Trapped inside the ship they would have _____. Only because it broke apart were their lives _____. What they surely thought would kill them actually saved them!

God can use every broken piece of my life to transport me to a _____ and transform me into a _____!
