You've heard of the Dead Sea Scrolls. What are they? Why are they of interest to Christians? How do they connect to our Bible? Though these scrolls were not written by Christians, they will give a shot of adrenalin to your confidence in the Bible's reliability.

This Wednesday evening... overflow. Ancient Site... Sacred Light.

I'm on my way to Hell (but I'm doing very well!)

(Isaiah 28)

Two Words ... _____, _____ (Sheol) (vs. 15)

FOOLHARDY

- a) _____ = "boast"
- b) _____ = "it cannot touch us"
- c) _____ = "overwhelming," but we will not be hurt
[contradiction]

Isaiah's warning has to do with the coming invasion/exile by the Assyrians (28:11, 13) but its logic/meaning is very relevant to those skeptical of God's judgement (including hell).

Images

1. Hail, wind, rain, flood ... thrown to the ground (28:2)
2. Ripe fig at harvest ... plucked and swallowed (28:4)
3. Cold and tired ... no rest provided by bed or blanket (28:20)

COVENANT? (What fantasy is this?)

- We don't want to _____ about it, therefore it doesn't _____.
- We are too smart, strong or good for _____ or _____
- If God _____, I'm sure he is a _____

Summary

1. Wage of sin = death. Hell is certain.
2. You say, "Not for me! I have an agreement!"
3. Not true. You live in a _____ (vs. 18)
4. You scoff. You should be _____ (vs. 19)

One of the reasons why people (even very wicked people) are skeptical of hell is that they currently benefit from God's goodness and grace (Matt. 5:45). Therefore, they reason, it will always be this way. Not so. Hell is a place _____ from God's grace and presence. (Matt. 22:8-14)
