How would you like to meet a guy who could outrun a horse? This was after he killed 950 men earlier in the day. What? Oh... forgot to mention... He also flew a kite up into a thunderstorm and tied the string to the metal horns on an altar. Yep... you guessed it! Lighting caught everything on fire! This guy was an inventor, entrepreneur, and a grumpy old preacher. His name was Elijah and we'll pick his brain and marvel at his life. Sure, ... you can join us!

True story... Cape Cod... a century ago. Each morning the telephone operator received a call. "Can you give me the exact time?" Curious, the operator asked the man one day, "Why?" His reply was simple, "I want to get it right because I'm the guy who blows the noon whistle." And she said, "Well that's funny because every day I set our clock by your whistle!" Is this the best we can do... set our moral clocks and standards based on each other? No! "To the Word and to the Testimony". (Isaiah 8:20)! And this is why we are here at OUB today.

WELCOME! Set your clock by God's standard today!

As school begins in our community... all sorts of dates and formats... we remind you to PRAY for our families, teachers, and administrators who begin a most unusual path. Specific request can be hooked to the OUB Prayer Chain at avstayman@comcast.net or call (717) 9977-7751.

REMINDER... Our Sunday worship services will continue in the gym until September 20. Bulletins and offering receptacles are at each gym door. The nursery is open to be used, but is not staffed. For those not attending, video of the services can be accessed from our website www.greencastleub.org

We are doing... MUSIC IN THE FIELD!

FAMILY FEUD

Hurt and bitterness among family members often stem from:

1. _____ 2. _____ 3. _____ 4. _____

*Joseph's own brothers _____, _____, _____, _____, and _____ (Genesis 37)

Everyone dreams of a supportive, loving, helpful family where the bonds of birth and blood are tight and true. Where patience and peace are the rule. In today's malicious, militant, money mad world, this seldom happens (Galatians 5:19-21). Many folks feel disappointed and/or devastated from "family" feuds.

WHAT IS A CHRISTIAN TO DO?

1. This quarrel or mistreatment has not ended my _____ or destroyed my _____, or change my _____ (Acts 15:36-41).

*Abuse from his brothers took Joseph into a different world, yet he realized he was still the same person and served the same God as before. He refused to allow his brutal treatment to become an _____ for _____ or _____ (Genesis 39:7-10).

I can _____ !

2. If, after work and warning, no progress or repentance is observed, it is sometimes necessary to _____ and _____. This does not mean your heart is hard or that you are not demonstrating God's love. There is no Scripture that suggests "family" is exempt from the rules of human relationships (Mt. 18:15-17, 1 Cor. 5:9-11, 11 Thess. 3:6, 14-15).

*Joseph, unsure of his brother's motives, warned them that if they would not _____ him _____ and _____, they "would never see his face again" (Gen. 43:3).

I can say " _____ " !

3. If repentance or apology comes, _____ and show good faith. Pride and bitterness are not acceptable just because the hurt was fostered by "family." I do not have to trust _____ in order to forgive _____ (Lk. 17:3-5, Col. 3:13, Eph. 4:30-32).

*Joseph never excused his brothers' conduct, yet he reconciled fully with them. He focused on the greater good that God had accomplished and _____ them to get over their _____ at _____. This is after they expressed guilt and sorrow (Gen. 44:16, 45:5-15, 50:15:21).

I can have _____ !
