The rhythms of life call out to each other... rising from the same source and falling toward the same goal. Sun and shadow, moon and tide, summer and winter. And work and rest. Labor and worship. The Creator of all life, the Source of every rhythm has given us a standard by which to gauge our balance. "Observe the Sabbath day by keeping it holy... a day of rest dedicated to the Lord your God." (Dt. 5:12). Our gathering here today is part of that! WELCOME!

True story. One of my first graders was gone for several days because his grandfather had passed away. When he returned, I told him that we had missed him. He said, "Well I had to go Iowa because my grandfather had his funeral, and I had to sit with the polar bears because they wanted us to carry his body!"
