Through the disobedience

man, many will be made

*Children's Church
9:00 and 11:10

Most of the time we are the church scattered. Pursuing our own passions and feeding our own families. Home. Office. Grocery store. Doing our time in our own cramped cell of responsibility. Most of the time we seek God as individuals separately. But today, we are the church gathered. You may be an arm or an ear, but as we come together, we form a body, and cannot help but notice each other... and take strength from each other... and learn from... and listen to... and lean on... one another. What a joy to have this Today! So glad that you have gathered with us. WELCOME!

True Story. A mail boat returning from the West Indies had several passengers, including a child with a dog. The child was tossing a stick to the dog and accidentally threw it overboard which didn't faze the dog at all. He leaped overboard after the stick. The child's father asked the boat Captain to stop the boat. The captain said, "Never. I would only stop this boat for a man overboard." The dad said, "Very well!" and leaped overboard himself. Of course the Captain was obliged to stop the boat and both man and dog were rescued. What a picture of our spiritual predicament and the love of JESUS who jumped overboard into our situation to save us! "While we were still sinners, Christ died for us" (Romans 5:8).

HA HA A man bought a cello and sat all day playing one note. Finally his wife said, "Don't know much about music, but other folks who play the cello keep moving their fingers up and down the strings." "Ah," said her husband, "they are searching for the note. I have found it!"
